Of Circleville

Circleville's public playground, located north of Hargus Creek and west of Court Street, will be named after the city's No. 1 good will ambassador, Ted Lewis, for 25 years one of the nation's most outstanding entertainers. The playground's official name will be "Ted Lewis Recreation Center."

Announcement of the selection of the name was made by Frank A. Lynch and W. E. Wallace, two of the leaders in the campaign that brought about purchase of the property for playground purposes.

"We feel that Ted Lewis has done more for Circleville than any other person, and that his name should be used in connection with the playground," Mr. Lynch and Mr. Wallace said.

At the same time that they announced selection of the name, they disclosed that Ted and Mrs.
Lewis had sent a check to them for $1,000 to help equip the playground property. This contribution is by far the largest received for the playground to date.
Numerous civic-minded individuals and organizations made substantial contributions that helped the committee raise enough money to purchase the necessary acreage for the playground.

Used For Equipment

That the money from Mr. and Mrs. Lewis will be used for equipment was decided by the Elks Lodge Committee which conducted the drive. More money will be sought in the spring for additional equipment, much of which will be needed for the recreation center.

Ted Lewis, born Theodore
Friedman, a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Friedman, has advised Circleville throughout the world during his stage shows and in appearances with his orchestra. He has contributed to all civic enterprises, furnishing the Berger Hospital nursery, helping to finance the purchase of new band uniforms, and assisting in numerous other undertakings when money was needed.

Germans Claim British Trying to Stir Balkans

BERLIN, Oct. 11—Great Britain is stirring up a "rumor campaign" in an effort to cause unrest in the Balkans, German quarters charged today.

Authentic Nazi quarters said the Reich is "taking note of the cries in the British press that the RAF will bomb Romanian oil fields and take action of other types" in the Balkans.

"We are ready for any eventualities," these circles commented.

(Editor's Note: In London authoritative quarters said that the British government has received reports from Sir Reginald Hoare, British ambassador to Romania, regarding the Romanian situation, "which cannot be regarded as satisfactory.")

ITALIANS CLAIM BRITISH HALTED IN TWO MARCHES

ROME, Oct. 11—Two attempts by British troops to make a drive into Italian territory in East Africa have been repulsed, the Italian high command reported today.

The two British thrusts were made against Eritrea and Kenya, a communique reported.

The communique said:
"One of our air formations bombed the airfield of the port of Sudan, hitting about 15 British planes on the ground."
"Without any success, the enemy tried to twice attack our East African region."

"The first attack, undertaken with partly motorized forces in the region between Abugamei and Tessenet in Eritrea, was easily repulsed."

"The second assault was carried through by two columns from different directions, namely Wajir and Arabahaj, and was directed at Buna in Kenya. These columns were supported by the air force."

"The attempt, however, was successfully rejected and the enemy, whose exact losses are not yet known, withdrew immediately."

"Enemy air attacks on Gura to Sell and Decamere caused slight damage. Two women were injured."

GREAT BRITISH SHIP READY FOR OVERSEAS DUTY

NEW YORK, Oct. 11—Reports that the Queen Elizabeth may leave its safe harbor here soon for use as a troopship were strengthened today when the kits of English sailors were carried on board.

The sailors arrived here recently on the liners Scythia and Samaria. The liner, the largest in the world, has been at her dock for months.

At the same time the Norwegian-American liner Bergenford was taken from Bayonne, N. J., to the Robbins drydock in Brooklyn for overhauling and repairs, indicating that it may soon put to sea under British control. The liner Osseford also was slated to go from Bayonne into the drydock.

Reich and Soviet Near Open Break

Washington Believes Germany's Movement
Into Balkans Threatens Activity By Reds; Supply Of Oil Imperative

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11 — Germany's push into the Balkans was viewed by informed Washington diplomats today as exposing the Third Reich to the grave danger of an outright break with Soviet Russia.

For some time, it is known, relations between Moscow and Berlin have been growing increasingly cool. At least 300,000 Russian troops, it is reported, are on the eastern border of Romania. Hence, the situation in what has been called "Europe's cockpit" is considered tense.

The German push into Romania comes at a time when Great Britain and the United States are trying by behind-the-scenes diplomacy to bring Moscow into close accord with the "democratic bloc."

At the same time, Japan is trying to save over its decade-old quarrel with the Soviet state and to insure, at least, its benevolent neutrality in the event of trouble with the United States and Britain in the Far East.

Surprise Expressed

In view of this situation, some Washington diplomats express surprise that Germany, as a member of the newly-formed German-Italian-Japanese "axis", should take any action likely to alienate Soviet Russia, which long has regarded the Black Sea shores as a vital sphere of influence.

The most plausible explanation found in this capital for Germany's taking this risk lies in the virtual certainty that it will have to fight through the coming winter and wants to make certain of its supplies of Romanian oil and wheat.

According to a statement by the British Ministry of Information, British bombers during recent months have destroyed 40 percent of Germany's domestic oil supply. If Russia should swing around to full cooperation with Britain, as seems possible, and the Reich's supply of oil from the Baku fields was cut off, the Nazi war machine would become vitally dependent on Romanian oil.

Hence, it is pointed out, Berlin may regard the necessity of having direct control over Romanian oil production as so vital that it is willing to run the risk of antagonizing Moscow.

The keystone of Soviet policy in the southwest—like that of the Tsars—has been to keep friendly and weak powers in the control of the Dardanelles and the western shore of the Black Sea. Thus Moscow has fostered close relations with Bulgaria and Turkey and has worked to keep any other power from establishing itself in Romania.

STIMSON MOVES TO STRENGTHEN WESTERN AREAS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11 — The United States stepped up its defense program on every front today to keep pace with the rapidly growing danger of war involvement.

Reorganization of the army into a highly mobile force, coupled with immediate strengthening of Pacific garrisons and acceleration of aircraft production, was ordered by military and naval leaders in a series of far-reaching preparedness measures.

Most significant move of the last 24 hours was the decision to send a National Guard regiment of 1,000 men to bolster anti-aircraft defenses in the Hawaiian Islands.

In revealing this step, Secretary of War Stimson indicated even more men would be dispatched to Hawaii shortly, and that newly-developed army bases in Alaska are being manned rapidly.

While Stimson characterized the sending of additional men to Hawaii as a step to enlarge existing defenses in the island, observers interpreted the move as a further warning to Japan. Stimson indirectly added to this warning by observing that the Philippines have made great progress in their defense preparations.

LANCASTER, Oct. 11—Previous records will be broken this week, Lancaster fair officials believed Friday, as favorable weather swelled attendance figures for the first two days of Lancaster's 90th annual event.

Fairfield County Agricultural Society officials, sponsors of the exposition, reported that Thursday's attendance figures showed a substantial increase over 1939 attendance at that time.

Authorities said Wednesday that attendance for the first day of the show was estimated at 10,000, with 7,200 paid admissions. The rest included concessionists, exhibitors and children under 12 years old.

Over 5,000 fair exhibits are being displayed by 400 exhibitors. Men in charge of listing exhibitors estimate that there are 4,026 displays in the livestock, poultry, farm products, granges, flower, baked goods, canned goods, fine arts and needlework divisions. The total is exclusive of the 4-H Club exhibits which numbered nearly 1,000.

Additional funds have been appropriated by Congress for this purpose, Weston said. The additional funds will enable the teaching to young men and young women of pre-employment experience in occupations related to national defense industries.

SHANGHAI, Oct. 11—A Japanese spokesman tonight sought to calm Shanghai residents made jittery by the assassination of Fu Siao-en, Japanese-sponsored Chinese mayor of Shanghai, and subsequent declaration of martial law in the Tokyo-controlled Hongkew district.

This spokesman denied rumors that Japanese forces planned to take over the International Settlement, if and when the Burma Road is reopened by the British.

He also denied that the Japanese army was building huge concentration camps at Kiangwan and Pootung, and gave the lie to further reports that Nipponese troops (Continued on Page Four)

MACHINERY FOR DRAFT ALMOST READY FOR JOB

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11—The draft board today announced that the machinery for registering 16,500,000 American men next Wednesday has been virtually completed and "all is in readiness."

Capt. Gareth N. Brainerd, chief of the board's field section, told a press conference that approximately 1,000,000 registrars have been appointed to conduct the huge undertaking.

"All is in readiness for registration of the country's man power for national defense next Wednesday," he said.

Faced with a shortage of doctors, engineers, lawyers and other professional men, the army planned today to take in a certain proportion of these classes under the draft.

These trained men, while they will not be deferred if their numbers are called, will be allowed to obtain commissions and serve their year in the medical or engineering corps, or in the judge advocate general's department.

Previously it was believed such men would receive occupational deferments on the grounds they were "necessary" in their civilian jobs.

KING AND QUEEN TOURING CITY DESPITE WARNINGS

LONDON, Oct. 11—King George and Queen Elizabeth, accompanied by Lord Woolton, minister of food, toured communal feeding centers in South London today during the course of an air raid warning.

Unmindful of the screaming sirens, Their Majesties inspected the food depots, occasionally stopping to chat with families made homeless by bombs.

Oil Tanks Go Up In Flames As Bombs Fall

LONDON, Oct. 11—Violent new British air raids designed to wipe out the great Krupp munitions works and the chief German naval bases at Kiel and Wilhelmshaven were announced by the Air Ministry today.

Operating on a "shuttle" basis across the English Channel in steady relays, the Royal Air Force last night attacked warships at Wilhelmshaven, dropping sticks of bombs over the harbor and starting fires at the docks and shipyards of Kiel.

Shipping at Calais, Boulogne, Le Havre and Brest also was attacked while Nazi coastal batteries at Cherbourg were bombed, the announcement said. German vessels at Flushing and Amsterdam and the docks at Den Helder were pounded.

RAF planes in addition went after the German airdromes at De Kooy and Kloppenburg, southwest of Bremen, at Ostheim in Bavaria, and the seaplane base at Nordene. All of the bombers returned safely.

Strong forces of RAF bombers singled out oil targets in Germany for one main attack last night, it was said. Oil storage tanks at Hamburg were blown up and fires started at Hanover, Reischolz, Gelsenkirchen, Cologne, Madgeburg and Leuna.

The Fokker plant at Amsterdam, factories at Botrop and a blast furnace at Oberhausen were bombed, while attacks also were made on railway lines at Soest, Hamm and Gelsenkirchen. Two Nazi planes were shot down during the operations, the announcement said.

The attacks were carried out in the face of adverse weather conditions and intense anti-aircraft and searchlight activity.

REDS' PROFIT SMALLER; STARS SIGN CONTRACTS

CINCINNATI, Oct. 11—Despite the winning club's share of the World Series melon, profits of the Cincinnati Baseball Club this year will fall $40,000 below those of last year, when the Reds won the National League bunting but dropped the fall classic in four straight games to the New York Yankees.

Total profits last year, when 980,000 fans paid to see the Reds, were approximately $400,000. This season, during regular play, 850,000 fans paid their way in, with a profit of $270,000 to the club.

The winning club's share was $135,000, of which about $45,000 went for series expenses, leaving a net of $90,000, and a profit for the year of $360,000.

"But," said General Manager Warren Giles, "were the champions, aren't we?"

Giles announced that Bucky Walters, who hurled two series victories, and First Baseman Frank McCormick have signed 1941 contracts.

BRITISH SHIPS HIT CHERBOURG

Heavy Attack Reported;
No Resistance Noted
From Germans

LONDON, Oct. 11—A heavy attack by units of the British navy on the French port of Cherbourg was announced by the admiralty today.

A brief announcement disclosing the first major offensive by the fleet itself against German-held channel ports said:

"Cherbourg was bombarded by heavy and light forces of the navy last night."

"Salvoes were seen bursting effectively on their targets."

"Large fires were visible from our ships returning home over a distance of 40 miles."

"Our ships met no opposition from the enemy either during the approach or retirement, but the main forces came under fire when returning, from enemy shore batteries."

Although the Germans have light naval forces stationed at Cherbourg, these offered no resistance, the admiralty said.

The British ships involved suffered no damage or casualties. The navy steamed over to Cherbourg and shelled the once busy harbor when aerial reconnaissance disclosed a large concentration of enemy shipping.

"Success of the undertaking," the admiralty said, "was largely due to excellent cooperation by the Royal Air Force, which assisted in reconnaissance and throughout the operation."

PATHFINDER HONORED

In the early days of the Nineteenth Century, ships that sailed the seas were almost completely at the mercy of the unpredictable whims of wind and wave. Sailors accepted their troubles as the price of conquering the seas. But there was at least one man who believed that the vagaries of the ocean could be predicted.

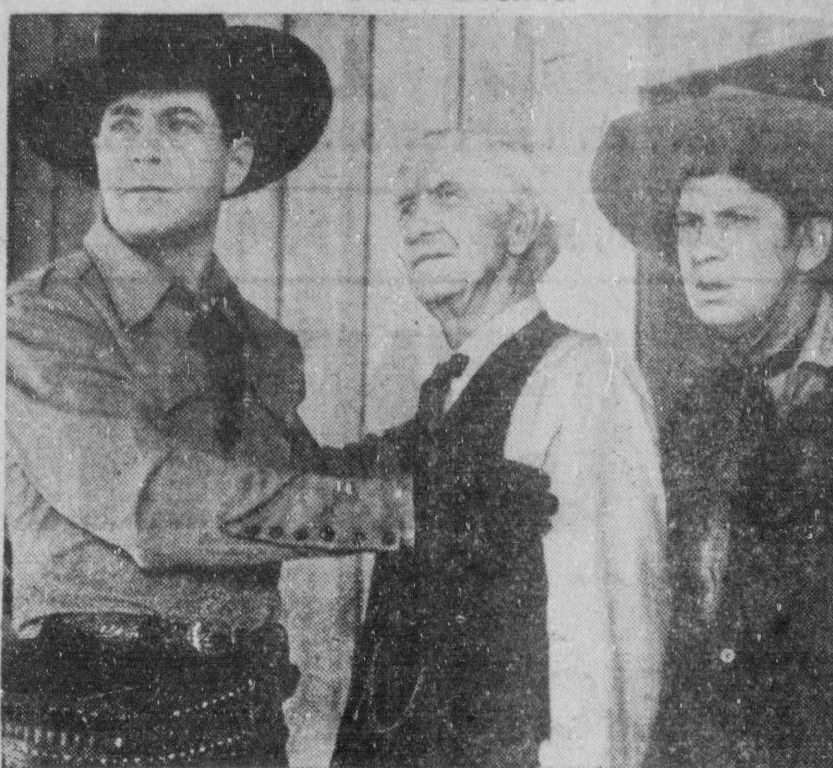

That man, Matthew Fontaine Maury, a lieutenant in the United States Navy, will be honored in the Cavalcade of America over the NBC-Red network on Wednesday, "The Pathfinder of The Seas", an original radio play based on the life and achievements of Lieutenant Maury, will be broadcast from 7:30 to 8:00 p. m.

A. At any time between 7 a. m. and 9 p. m. next Wednesday. Registration places will be designated by the local authorities and you will be able to determine the one nearest you through your newspaper.

Q. What address do I give when I register?
A. The place you actually live at the time, even if it is not your legal domicile.

Q. What questions should I be prepared to answer when I register?

A. Only your name, address, telephone, date and place of birth, citizenship, and the name of your employer and of a person who always will know your whereabouts. Detailed questions about dependency, occupation, etc., will come later when you are classified.

Q. What happens if I refuse to answer the registrar's questions?
A. If you persist in the refusal, you will be turned over to the police.

Q. Will I be told my number before the order numbers are drawn in the lottery?
A. You will receive no formal notification, but your name and number will be posted publicly by your local board.

MORE CCC BOYS SOUGHT; PLACES ARE AVAILABLE

The way was opened Friday for enrollment of 15 additional Pickaway County youths in the Civilian Conservation Corps following receipt of word from the state CCC office that a new quota is being drawn.

The youths are asked to apply at the Relief Administration office, West High Street, at once if they seek to enroll. The group will be taken to Chillicothe, Monday, for physical examination and distribution into camps.

Any youth between ages of 17 and 23½ is eligible to enroll in the CCC.

The new enrollment will not affect the regular quota of 17 which will gather next Friday, October 18. The regular enrollment includes 16 white youths and one Negro.

Restrictions governing CCC enrollment are not near so limited as at previous times, any youth passed by the local authorities being considered. When the CCC was inaugurated only son of relief families were permitted to enroll.

President To Tour Ohio; Major Address Planned From Dayton

Massachusetts Is Told To Charge Closed Plants To New Deal

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 11—President Roosevelt rolled into the industrial areas of Pennsylvania and Ohio today aboard a special that had almost all the trappings of a campaign train, although his eighth of a continuing series of national defense inspections as usual was billed "non-political."

For the first time since the current presidential campaign began, elaborate arrangements had been made to accommodate members of congress, political leaders, local bigwigs, newspaper reporters and photographers who wired in a desire to hop on and off briefly as Mr. Roosevelt makes his fast two day journey through Johnstown, Seward and Pittsburgh, Pa.; Youngstown, Ravenna, Akron, Columbus and Dayton, Ohio.

One hundred and three persons were aboard the ten-car presidential special when it pulled out of Washington last night.

Indicative of the significance the press and radio attached to the speech the President will broadcast to the world from Dayton Saturday night, 12 newswires and still photographers and four radio men. Before the tour is over, 17 additional reporters, five photographers and two more radio men will be aboard—a total more than twice in excess of any such group that has traveled with the President on any other trip since the July Democratic convention in Chicago nominated him for a third term.

The Dayton speech, directed primarily at all of the republics of the Western Hemisphere as well as continental United States, is to be predicated on the theme of "all for one and one for all," according to White House Secretary Stephen T. Early.

In view of the critical international situation—which for a time threatened to cancel out the Pennsylvania-Ohio tour of the President—his Saturday night radio address was being awaited as major exposition of American foreign policy.

The President left Washington only after an hour-and-a-half conference with Secretary of State Cordell Hull and Undersecretary Sumner Welles, following which Romanians credits in this country were "frozen" in the same manner as all other assets of nations invaded by the axis powers.

Along the right of way this morning at railroad operating stops, telephone lines were strung into the President's private car to enable him to get any last-minute reports on the situation in the Far East and Europe.

Pittsburgh and Youngstown were the major stops on today's itinerary with a preliminary pause at Johnstown to permit a local committee briefly aboard the Roosevelt train as well as such key Pennsylvania Democratic leaders as Senator Joseph F. Guffey and National Committeeman David Lawrence. Johnstown's mayor and Chamber of Commerce President, John A. Conway and William Patterson respectively, led the flood town's delegation.

PRINCE BERNHARD SAFE AFTER BOMB EXPERIENCE

LONDON, Oct. 11 — Prince Bernhard Von Und Zu Lippe Biesfeld, husband of Crown Princess Juliana of the Netherlands, narrowly escaped with his life during the night when a German bomb played havoc with atop-floor London apartment, it was revealed today.

The prince was forced to slide down the bannisters from the apartment after the explosion wrecked the stairs in the building where the prince was visiting friends.

He flung himself on the floor when the bomb came in through a window above the stairs. Later, with the assistance of air raid precaution squads, he reached the street in safety. His friends also were rescued.

STARS SAY—

For Friday, October 11
A SUDDEN and surprising event bursting into a rather routine or humdrum state of affairs may have rather startling and far reaching results of a wholly unpredictable nature, according to lunar transits. This may precipitate an abrupt change of plans with a radical uprooting of current circumstances. New associations and environs not entirely welcome or pleasant may be looked for but these should not be decided upon with impetuosity or tumult.

Those whose birthday it is may encounter a year of a sharp and surprising turn of events, which may have a radical and uprooting effect on prevailing plans and projects. Change of environs, contacts and objectives may be enforced although not welcomed, but enter into such rearrangements with calmness.

A child born on this day may have a restless, nervous and at times erratic nature, with sudden impulses and "escapes" difficult to fathom. It would profit by being taught to cultivate response and poise in all sudden visitations.

19 FILE CLAIMS FOR INDUSTRIAL INJURIES

Nineteen Pickaway County workers filed claims during the last month with the Ohio Industrial Commission as the result of injuries received during their work. None of the injuries was fatal and only seven caused more than seven days' lost time. Eight caused seven days or less, with a total of 267 days lost during the month.

A contract has been let by the State Highway Department to C. R. Boulton of Columbus to construct a steel beam bridge with concrete deck over Deer Creek in Pickaway and Madison Counties. Cost of the undertaking will be $33,458.

RAF SHUTTLES RAIDERS OVER CHANNEL AREA

sands of square miles of Germany and Nazi-occupied territory in western Europe, Royal Air Force squadrons rained tons of bombs on oil depots, communication lines, airdromes, armament works, gun emplacements, and "invasion" harbors, it was announced.

The steady raids, part of the British "master plan" to cripple the Reich war machine, represent one of the fiercest aerial offensives that has been undertaken since the outbreak of war.

Boulogne, Calais, Brest and Cap Gris Nez bore the brunt of the attack, although the raids on other points in Germany's sprawling war establishment were described as "heavy."

Fires in Boulogne

In the French port of Boulogne, dropping bombs were reported to have started fires at the rate of one a minute. Returning pilots reported that one monster blaze was seen sweeping a portion of the city.

Despite fierce gales and rain clouds, the British warplanes carried out a particularly heavy raid on Calais, the Nazi-held port closest to England. Dover cliff-top watchers, 22 miles away, reported that the whole stretch of the French shoreline was silhouetted against the brilliant glare of exploding bombs.

At the French naval port of Brest, Nazi destroyers were reportedly damaged by falling bombs.

Attacks were carried out on gun emplacements at Cap Gris Nez after the Nazi "big Berthas" opened fire on the Dover area last night. The German guns fired for an estimated 30 minutes, but no military damage or casualties were said to have resulted.

Immediately after the long-range shelling ceased, Royal Air Force planes were seen carrying out an attack on Cap Gris Nez. The sound of the exploding bombs could be heard on the English side of the channel and gigantic sheets of flame lit up the sky.

army placed itself in a position to strike a powerful blow from the north and east at any invader of Romanian soil.

Officials in Washington are by no means certain that Germany's present move will mean actual war with Russia. But in view of Moscow's traditional attitude in the Balkans, its reaction to the present invasion is being watched intently.

Meanwhile, President Roosevelt last night "froze" Romanian funds, totaling about $100,000,000, in the United States to prevent their seizure by German interests if the Nazis take over the Bucharest government.

were being concentrated in the western areas.

However, three Japanese army trucks loaded with soldiers entered the International Settlement during the day, ostensibly to search for the assassin of the slain mayor. These troops followed in the wake of earlier searching parties.

In the course of his sweeping denials, the Japanese spokesman laid the blame for the alarming reports to certain individuals who are anxious to strain relations between the United States and Japan.

However, he made no mention of the numerous German Nazi agents who are known to have been most active in fomenting Japanese-American disputes.

The puppet mayor was slain with a meat chopper as he slept in his home in Hongkew, Japanese stronghold of this city. Police said the killer, allegedly a trusted servant who had been with the family for 12 years, escaped on a bicycle after calmly walking out of the house past guards.

It was unconfirmedly rumored that a Japanese army officer had been shot near the scene of the slaying.

Making a house-to-house search in Hongkew, Japanese military police sought Chinese nationalists who might have hatched the plot to kill the mayor.

scattered. No bombs were dropped on the capital.

The second alarm was caused by a lone raider which flew over a London suburb. Anti-aircraft fire forced the plane to retreat and no bombs were dropped.

Although the night raid ended earlier than usual, it was one of the fiercest London has yet experienced.

Liverpool as well as London took a heavy pounding during the night. Forty high explosive bombs and many incendiaries were dropped on Liverpool, damaging a warehouse, a school, a motion picture theatre and a convent. Several persons were killed.

BERLIN, Oct. 11 — German coastal long-range guns in the vicinity of the German-held French port of Cherbourg opened fire on a British cruiser today, the Reich war ministry announced.

The British warship, which had appeared off Cherbourg, immediately fled after the firing began, the announcement said.

Another communique reported that German warplanes had resumed attacks on the British Isles this morning, the raids being centered on London, the home counties, and South Wales.

LONDON, Oct. 11 — Two new air raid alarms sounded in London today in the wake of a night-long raid during which Nazi bombers pounded Britain's capital with mounting fury.

More than 50 London districts were attacked last night and early this morning as well as sections of the midlands, Wales and the Liverpool region.

This morning both daylight alarms, London's 194th and 195th since the war began, were brief and no particular incidents were reported.

The first, heralded by brief anti-aircraft fire and the sound of planes over the city, was sounded when nine Nazi raiders approached the London area. Anti-aircraft guns broke up the formation. Four of the German planes retreated and the others were of the Soviet acquisition of Baltic states.

Russian officials, it was said, have already informed the United States that in the event of the conclusion of a Russo-Japanese non-aggression pact, the Soviet intends to continue to supply the Chinese government of Chiang Kai Shek with aid.

The foregoing statement of policy was reportedly given to American Ambassador Laurence A. Steinhardt by Molotov himself.

During last week's discussion with the British ambassador, Molotov, according to the same source, revealed that Russia has advanced 450,000,000 dollars in total credits to China since the outbreak of the Sino-Japanese war.

Of this amount, $350,000,000 in credits were advanced up to January, 1940, it was said, the remainder having been granted since that date.

MORE ICE CREAM
NEW YORK—America's liking for ice cream has increased 83 percent in the last eight years, according to figures released by the National Dairy Council. In 1939 the United States consumed 9.21 quarts of ice cream per capita compared with 5.04 quarts in 1932. It was estimated that ice cream manufacturers purchased 4,465,485,000 pounds of milk for the cream used in the favorite dairy product.

ELYRIA DIRECTOR LIMITS PICKETS DURING STRIKE

ELYRIA, Oct. 11 — Continued sporadic acts of violence today resulted in an order by Elyria Safety-Director I. D. Faxon limiting to 10 the pickets at the General Industries Co., where the Mechanics Educational Society of America is on strike.

Two pickets were arrested yesterday after disturbances at the homes of non-strikers.

Tor Cedervall, Mesa organizer, said he had protested Faxon's limiting of pickets to the Senate Civil Liberties Committee and to Roger Baldwin, director of the American Civil Liberties Union.

The strike of 900 Mesa production workers was called after the union maintained that the company failed to keep an agreement. Members of American Federation of Labor unions in the plant did not join with the mesa in the strike.

NAZI MOVEMENT HINTS SURPRISE ACT IN BALKANS

More Reich Troops Sailing
Down Danube In Ships
And Barges

GREECE PUT ON SPOT

British Prepare To Leave
Bucharest; Italians To Flee Athens

BUDAPEST, Oct. 11 — A surprise move by the Rome-Berlin axis in the Balkans, possibly aimed at Greece, was predicted by diplomatic quarters in Budapest today as Nazi forces established themselves in Romania.

Dispatches from Bucharest indicated that more troops from the Reich are expected in Romania over the week end.

(Editor's Note: The Balkan correspondent of the London Daily Telegraph reported that six German troop ships headed down the Danube River passed Belgrade, Yugoslavia, yesterday, and that groups of six barges passed the same city almost hourly for the last two days.

(Newspaper reports reaching Sofia said three ships carrying an unknown number of German troops passed through Belgrade last night.

(In Berlin, however, German authorities said they had no knowledge of reports published abroad stating that Bulgaria had ordered partial mobilization in view of the gathering Balkan crisis.)

Because of the dispatch of German forces to Romania, the British legation staff in Bucharest burned its documents and packed up for probable departure today or tomorrow.

Italians To Leave
With a breach in Anglo-Romanian relations reported near the Italian legation in Athens was reported to have ordered all Italian nationals in Greece to leave the country.

Simultaneously Premier John Metaxas of Greece conferred with the British minister to Athens, Sir Charles Palairat, over the gathering crisis.

(The number of German troops already in Romania remained in doubt and reports from different sources conflicted sharply. Berlin said that so far only a "few air squadrons" had arrived and that the "model army" will follow after German instructors are established in Romania.

(From other sources it was reported that German troops are concentrated in the oil-producing regions of the Transylvanian Alps, while others have been established at Galatz and Constantza.)

Most of the German troops and supplies were reported being moved down the Danube River because, as Berlin announced, that river now has been "internationalized." En route the Germans would have to pass through Hungarian and Yugoslavian territory.

Confirmation Missing
There was still no confirmation of reports published by the London Daily Express that German troops also have reached Bulgaria.

Coinciding with the Anglo-Greek consultations in Athens, British air force reinforcements reached Cyprus, the large eastern Mediterranean island, according to dispatches to Budapest.

The Boyhood of Jesus

HIGHLIGHTS ON THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Newman Campbell

(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for October 13 is Luke 2, the Golden Text being Luke 2:52, "And Jesus advanced in wisdom and stature, and in favor with God and man.")

WE WILL have part of this chapter of Luke again at the Christmas season, so we will dwell long on the account of Christ's birth as told in this second chapter of Luke. We will talk of the various people who entered into His life at this time.

It is thought Jesus was born in the winter of 4 to 5 B. C. His parents had gone from their home in Nazareth to Bethlehem to enroll, according to a decree. It was also prophesied that the Messiah would be born in Bethlehem, so that His birth there fulfilled this prophecy.

The inn at Bethlehem was not an hotel as we know it, but a khan or caravanserai. It was an enclosed place surrounded by open recesses with paved floors raised a little above the ground, where travelers rested or slept. Because many people were on their way to be registered, the place was crowded and Joseph and Mary had either to be content with a corner of the enclosed court or with a stable. It is also probable that the stable where Jesus was born was a limestone grotto or cave.

After eight days the Babe was named Jesus, as the angel had told Mary it should be, and after the days had passed that were set aside by the Hebrew law for Mary's purification after His birth, the Babe was taken to the temple to be "presented to the Lord." And to have offered a sacrifice, "a pair of turtledoves or two young pigeons."

Outside the temple was a devout and just man whose name was Simeon. He was old and waiting for death. It was revealed to him by the Holy Ghost that he should not die until he had seen the Messiah. When Jesus was being brought out of the temple, Simeon recognized Him as such and he took Him in his arms, blessed God, and said:

"Lord, now lettest Thou Thy servant depart in peace, according to Thy word; for mine eyes have seen Thy salvation."

He blessed Joseph and Mary, who were amazed at his actions, and said to Mary: "Behold this child is set for the fall and rising again of many in Israel; and for a sign which shall be spoken against (yea, a sword shall pierce through thy own soul also), that the thoughts of many hearts may be revealed."

Prophetess Recognizes Messiah

There also was an old widow woman named Anna, a prophetess, who spent a great deal of time in the temple. She, too, recognized the Babe as the Lord, and gave thanks to God for Him, and then went out and "spoke of Him to all them that looked for redemption in Israel."

After this Joseph and Mary went to their home in Nazareth, taking the Child with them, and after this we are told that He "waxed strong in spirit, filled with wisdom; and the grace of God was upon Him."

Every year Mary and Joseph went up to Jerusalem for the feast of the passover, and when Jesus was 12 years old, He was taken with them. After the time of the feast the parents started back home, supposing Jesus was with some part of their company. When they had gone a day's journey, however, they missed Him and asked if anyone had seen Him and no one had.

Worried, they started back to Jerusalem, and at last found Him in the temple with the rabbis, talking to them and asking them questions. All those who heard Him were astonished at the questions He asked and the things He said.

Mary and Joseph went to Him and Mary said: "Son, why hast Thou thus dealt with us? behold, Thy father and I sought Thee sorrowing." And Jesus was surprised in His turn and said to them: "How is it that ye sought me? Knew ye not that I must be about My Father's business?"

They did not understand what He meant, but He obediently went with them and they all returned home. Possibly His father forgot what Jesus had said, but, like all loving mothers, Mary kept the sayings of her child in her heart. "And Jesus increased in wisdom and stature, and in favor with God and man."

Simeon's prophecy, that Jesus "was set for the fall and rise of many in Israel," meant that Jesus would be a stumbling block for some; but for others He would be the cause of "renewed life." And surely his words to Mary came true, for she was to suffer sharp pains indeed when she heard her Son reviled and saw Him suffer the agonies of the cross.

ASHVILLE

By S. D. Fridley

Ashville, Phone 79

Mrs. William Cloud Underwent a major operation Thursday at St. Francis hospital. "Getting along very well" was the late word received here.

Gene O'Day has been the proud possessor of a nice new bicycle since last Christmas, presented to him by his many friends. It played a trick on him Thursday throwing him to the pavement, breaking an arm near the wrist. He's all splinted and bandaged up now and the wheel will get rest at least so far as he is concerned. He is back in school, fourth grade, and getting the best of that multiplication table.

Mrs. Addie Squire is in New York City the guest of her son Emerson.

Richard (Dick) Welsh of whom we spoke in a recent article in this column is playing in the Otterbein College Band. Last week the band accompanied the football team to Tiffin where the team met the Heidelberg College aggregation.

Some of the Kibbee family were back in town the other day gathering and selling their garden produce—beans, radishes, etc. The Pickerington school where the Kibbee children go was to be closed from Wednesday through Friday of this week for the Fairfield County Fair.

William "Tick" Pettibone, son of "Hud" from over Millport way, is in the injured list with a badly cut foot. A piece of glass did the trick. Tick is confined to his home on account of the accident.

Warren Swisher, Senior at AHS, is now a working man. He is holding down an "after school" position in one of the town's newest stores.

The local high school softball team had its good record ruined over at Commercial Point Wednesday when it lost a 7 to 0 game. This complete reversal of form is difficult to explain in view of the fact that the boys from Scioto were defeated earlier in the season.

Many Ashville families will get into their "gas buggies" this Sunday, that is if the weather is nice, and head toward the hills of Southern Ohio where they will view the wonders of nature in the form of beautifully covered hill sides—leaves of all sizes, shapes, and colors. From now to the end of the month is the best time to view this galaxy of color and Southern Ohio, right next door to us, is as good a place as any for the tour. An especially beautiful road is Route No. 75 from Ironton to Jackson; this highway takes you through many wooded sections and part of one of the state's forests. Try this one!

OPEN LETTERS

TO MALES: 21-35 INCLUSIVE

MEN: Starting in mid-October and continuing until, only Uncle Sam knows when, you fellows will be in action under the careful guidance of the good Uncle, who believes that the best style of play these days is that which involves a mighty good defense with an even greater offensive in reserve. Any good football coach will tell you that a good offensive team is a good defensive one as well, but our experienced Uncle believes that if our defense is strong enough that the offensive division will not have to be used. Probably, he is right, because the guys running the teams most likely to test our ability are not expected to want to tangle with a snarling, biting and clawing United States. There will be many disadvantages connected with Conscription; many will have to leave jobs, friends. They will be devoting a year of their lives to the cause of the nation's defense, and there are many who will tell you that they believe a year of military training is the greatest thing that could happen to them; others will deny this stand. The fact remains that if ever Mr. Hitler, or any other mad dog, decides to take a grab at the United States we had all better be ready for whatever he might have to offer, and up to now he has had a lot to hurl at his oppressors. Everyone should get behind the Draft Bill to make it as successful as possible. There isn't any use seeking an exemption, because they aren't being passed out promiscuously. If your local board believes you should be exempted, chances are you will be. Don't bother writing to your congressman or your senator, because neither can be of any assistance at all. The government is taking steps to assure each that his job will be waiting for him when he returns home. It seems certain that all truly American employers will hold positions for the persons who filled them prior to the draft. Persons who fear that conscription means continuous army life should abandon this thought, because it doesn't carry that meaning at all. It means that every male person between 21 and 35 inclusive will be trained for a year to put each in condition in case an emergency should arise. The President is for it; his opponent at the polls next November is in favor of it, and I believe that all of us should cooperate by getting behind it.

CIRCUITEER.

TO HILDEBURN MARTIN

SIR: This is not a publicity letter, and is not written with any intention of bringing you more business in the future. It merely attempts to give credit to one who is contributing much time and effort toward making this year's Pumpkin Show a success. At the present time you are employing additional help and are working overtime in an effort to dress up Circleville for the show. Reports from business men indicate that they are very much pleased with your work. You have sold more than 150 of them the uniform Pumpkin Show business fronts. You have made over 200 auto banners and are now working on 16 commercial floats to be included in the Show parades. You have a big job ahead of you, but Pumpkin Show officials unanimously agree you can handle it.

CIRCUITEER.

TO VETERANS OF FOREIGN WARS

SOLDIERS: I hope that your Americanism program scheduled for Sunday afternoon is an outstanding success, and that the district conference planned by your organization is equally successful. Your organization, nationally and locally, should do all in its power to make everyone think in terms of Americanism and the function this week end may help in this respect. I hope that your parade is a large one, and that the message Judge Arthur H. Day brings at your rally in Memorial Hall is an interesting one.

CIRCUITEER.

TO EVERYONE

FOLK: This is Fire Prevention Week, and schools throughout the county are including fire drills, special speakers and special instruction on elimination of fire hazards in their programs. Such programs could go far if they were more enthusiastically received. Damage by fire has not materially decreased during the last several years, Fire Chief Talmer Wise reports, total fire loss in the community being about the same as it has been in previous years. The fire department has had 89 calls this year. Many of these fires have been caused by carelessness. The Circleville fire department does have modern fire-fighting equipment and operates efficiently, which gives no one an excuse to be careless. This has been an unusually dry summer, and grass fires, if left unwatched, may result in serious damage. Why not have Fire Prevention Week the year round?

CIRCUITEER.

TO DRAFT BOARD NOMINEES

GENTLEMEN: Your names have not yet been announced, but there is no doubt but that you are public-minded citizens, or you would not have accepted a position on the draft board. Not only do you serve without pay, but your position on the board is one which definitely places you in hot water. You will be subject to criticism from many sides for drafting one person for military service and not another. You may be labeled as partial in your selections. It is not surprising that the presiding judges asking men to serve on the board received many excuses in reply. Still, it is a job that has to be done and your willingness to cooperate indicates that you have accepted in the best interests of the community.

WORLD AT A GLANCE

—By—
Charles P. Stewart

STRAW polling on the presidency generally has given a comfortable margin of advantage to Franklin D. Roosevelt over Wendell L. Willkie.

Willkie-ites, however, get considerable balm of Gilead out of the fact that these polls have recorded a noticeably sizeable proportion of the voters questioned who hadn't made up their minds, when queried, how they will cast their ballots.

This bloc is about 10 percent strong. Assuming that Roosevelt's and Willkie's respective straw showings are approximately correct, the doubtful contingent should it flop mostly one way, ought to be enough to decide the election.

Now, the Republicans reason that an individual who remains on the fence until the last minute is far likelier, finally, to get off on Willkie's side than on Roosevelt's. He (or she) has had, say G.O.P. analysts, hard onto eight years to assess the present White House tenant. If the latter, in that elector's opinion, has performed sufficiently satisfactory to offset whatever anti-third term prejudice such voter may harbor, that person already favors his continuance in office.

If, however, said citizen (or citizeness) is Rooseveltianly hesitant, the inference is that he or she isn't overly well suited with Franklin D. at today's juncture. Yet he or she (put it "she or her," to be impartial) quite possibly has regarded Wendell Willkie as a practically unknown quantity hitherto; therefore has preferred not to declare for him prematurely.

CAN WENDELL WIN 'EM?

Can Wendell, in the course of his still raging campaign talks, convince this see-sawing element? If he can do it, the Willkie-ites contend that he'll get most of that aggregation and that it'll elect him. And they maintain that he can do it. You can't but suspect that more or less wishful thinking enters into their argument. Nevertheless, such is their cerebration.

The New Dealers naturally pooh-pooh it contemptuously. Personally, I think the Democrats genuinely are more confident than the Republicans, but perhaps that's to be expected; they're entrenched and that's an advantage.

One guess is that Norman Thomas will get a record Socialist vote. Nobody believes, to be sure, that there's any really Socialist trend. The notion (if there's anything in it) is that it'll be a protest vote cast by folk who are fed up on the New Deal but don't want to cast ballots for Willkie. Of course, should it happen, it won't imply Communistic, Nazi or Fascist sympathies. Thomas doesn't go into any of those classifications. He rates as a politico-economic bug, but not a malignant one.

G. O. P. RATHER PESSIMISTIC

I live in an atmosphere which is decidedly Willkie-esquely pessimistic.

Capitol Hill doesn't count. Regardless of what they truly anticipated, congressmen predict victory in November accordingly as they are Democrats or Republicans. Ditto the respective parties' headquarters.

My gang, though, is the Washington newspaper corps. I'd estimate it as about 80 percent pro-Willkie in sympathy. It's thus mainly because the boys don't like Roosevelt. You might suppose they would, but they don't. They deem him too patronizing or something.

Nevertheless pro-Wendell though they are sentimentally, they bet on Franklin D.

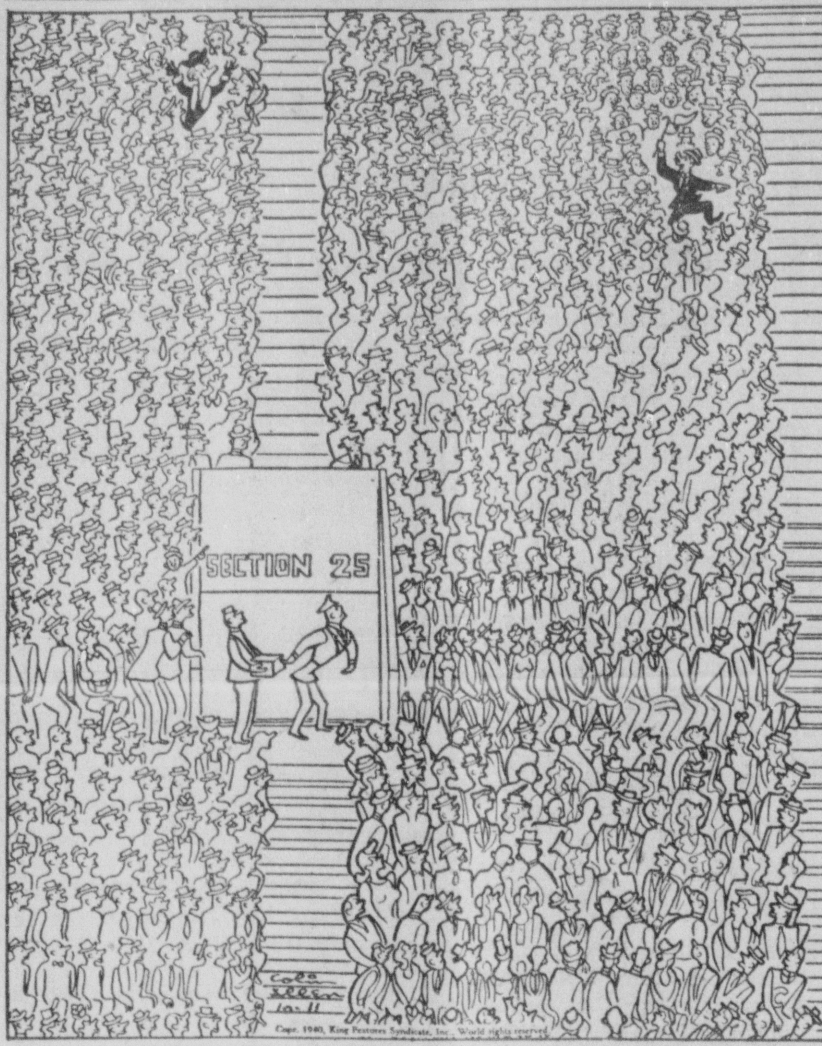

Senator Carter Glass of Virginia discouraged the crew badly when he announced that, despite his violent third term opposition, he intended to vote the Democratic ticket. Their conclusion is that the Solid South, while strongly anti-third termite, will stay solid.

With the south remaining that way, the newspaper dope is that Franklin D. will get enough additional northern votes to elect him.

I'm speaking of the papers' Washington correspondents; not their home newspapers.

You can wish one thing and think otherwise.

"Hey, Ma. There goes OUR boy! The one with the water bucket!"

DIET AND HEALTH

School Medical Service

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

LIKE all things in a democracy, school medical services should, besides their immediate objective of making the children physically fit, serve as an education in proper medical care.

This is pointed out by Dr. Charles C. Wilson, of Hartford, Connecticut, in contrasting the medical services in what he calls a Neanderthal School and a Utopian School.

On a visit to the Neanderthal School, you go to the principal's

Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

office, and ask to see how the health examinations are being conducted. The principal says he is not sure the school physician has come yet. "Sometimes he is late, and sometimes he doesn't come at all! He is such a busy man."

He takes you to the room where the examinations are to be held, and you find a mob of children milling around a nurse, who is making out some new cards. You express surprise that new cards are being made out for seventh grade pupils—thinking that cards showing previous examinations would be available—and she explains that in transfers or some other way a number of the cards got lost.

The nurse in answer to a question explains that parents are not invited to the examinations.

The doctor enters hurriedly and says he has to leave early so we must get on with the examination. A child approaches, the doctor inserts a tongue depressor and says: "T!s child has terrible tonsils; tell the mother they should be taken out," inserts his stethoscope between the child's clothing and the body, and says: "Next!" When you ask whether the pupil with the bad tonsils has had frequent colds or absences the answers are not known and no plan is provided to secure such answers.

No Cooperation

Going into a classroom you learn from the teacher that she is much relieved to know that the medical department is taking over all the health problems of her pupils, and that she doesn't have to bother. When you ask how many of her pupils have serious defects you learn the nurse has all the records and she never talks them over. The boy holding the book close to his eyes may have something wrong with his eyes, but then that couldn't be because the nurse examined his eyes with a chart and said his eyesight was good. Yes, some of the pupils should go to a dentist, but only one had toothache yesterday.

In the nurse's office, a number of children are waiting for attention. This one gets an aspirin for headache, this one oil of cloves for toothache, this one some sodium bicarbonate for indigestion, with the confidential advice to you that it is just a placebo.

Authorities Work Together

In the Utopian School things are all different—there is coordination between the principal, the doctor, the nurse and the teacher. The pupils are treated like reasonable human beings. The parents are constantly consulted. Pupils, parents and teachers get some respect for the value of a long-range health record. Physical defects are treated by searching for the cause, instead of smothering them down with a placebo.

"The educative value of the health service program depends partly on the personality of the school personnel, and partly on the development of the 'art' side of medicine, in contrast to the 'science' side."

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

H. R. W.:—"Is it possible to cure a hernia by means of injections?"

Answer—Yes, in properly selected cases.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Dr. Clendening has seven pamphlets which can be obtained by readers. Each pamphlet sells for 10 cents. For any one pamphlet desired, send 10 cents in coin, and a self-addressed envelope stamped with a three-cent stamp, to Dr. Logan Clendening, in care of this paper. The pamphlets are: "Three Weeks' Reducing Diet," "Indigestion and Constipation," "Reducing and Gaining," "Infant Feeding," "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes," "Feminine Hygiene" and "The Care of the Hair and Skin."

Looking Back in Pickaway County

FIVE YEARS AGO

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin F. Lindsey of Ashville announced the marriage of their daughter, Evelyn, to Mr. Elwood F. Morrison, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Morrison of Ashville. The single ring ceremony was read in the Lutheran parsonage October 8 by the Rev. H. D. Fudge.

Miss Betty Fischer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Fischer of Jackson Township and niece of Frank Fischer, superintendent of Circleville Schools, was elected treasurer of the Germania Verein of Capital University.

Lawrence Goeller, Beverly Road, suffered head injuries when his Reo automobile skidded on asphalt pavement west of New Holland. Mr. Goeller, who was returning from Dayton, was treated by a New Holland physician.

10 YEARS AGO

Honored by election to the high office of governor of the Twenty-second district of Ohio Rotary Clubs, Meeker Terwilliger, Circleville attorney, paid his official visit to his home club at the weekly meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Hegele, East Main Street, announced the engagement and coming marriage of their daughter, Margaret Lucille, to Mr. Frank Heise of 39 Hubbard Avenue, Columbus, son of Mrs. W. F.

Heise of Cleveland. They were to be married October 15.

Dr. E. E. Lewis, professor of school of administration of Ohio State University, and Dr. John L. Clifton were to address the teachers of Pickaway County Schools at a meeting at the high school building Saturday.

25 YEARS AGO

Three prisoners made their escape from the Pickaway County jail.

Ninety-four former pupils and teachers of District No. 1 school of Scioto Township enjoyed a reunion and basket dinner October 9 at the old brick school.

Pickaway Township schools held a harvest festival which proved to be a county fair on a small scale. Superintendent Edward Daley awarded the prizes.

BEFORE THE BLITZKRIEG

RELEASED BY CENTRAL PRESS ASSOCIATION

by
RUPERT GRAYSON

In the pale morning light she looked slightly disheveled but picturesque.

And Gun, rather grimly, quoted FitzGerald:

"Ah! Make the most of what ye yet may spend,
Before ye too into the dust descend . . ."

After the meal, Coral became absorbed with handkerchief, powder puff and lipstick, which she described as "putting the best possible face on it."

Gun and Tommy sat by the door smoking and rather gloomily surveying the situation outside. The ground was scarred where their bombs had struck, but there was no sign of bodies, dead or wounded. They must have crept up and carried them away during the night.

"I wonder how many of the blighters we've actually knocked over?" mused Tommy.

"Impossible to tell—but I shouldn't say that they could muster more than twenty."

"Pretty nearly enough—against three."

"Be careful. I wouldn't trust found Otto yet?"

This question was soon answered, for present, a white handkerchief, tied to a rifle barrel, was hoisted above the center pile of sandbags.

"They want to talk," said Gun. "I don't see why we shouldn't parley a bit. It'll pass the time away." He waved his own handkerchief above the sandbags, and then stood erect. Almost immediately from behind the shelter two figures appeared. They were Otto and Trent, both looking the worse for wear.

They came a few paces forward, and then Otto beckoned. Gun stepped over the sandbags, and also moved out a little way. Tommy cried:

"Be careful. I wouldn't trust those scugs an inch."

Gun called over his shoulder:

"It's all right. They've nothing to gain by bumping me off just now, anyway."

Tommy made a trumpet of his hands and yelled:

"Say, Trent! We're standing by with our rifles here, and if you start anything hell'll shoot. See?"

Trent's reply was a wave of the hand to show that he had heard, and Tommy and Coral took their rifles and stood alert and ready for anything, behind the sandbags.

When they were within shouting distance Gun raised his hand as a signal for the others to stop.

"Well, what do you want?" Gun called out.

Otto took a pace forward. It was evident that he was in an ugly temper.

"You British pigs—you think you're clever, eh? Well, presently we will show you you are not so clever as you think."

Rather surprisingly, Trent now stepped forward and pushed his superior back, silencing him with a gesture. It was fairly evident that trouble had had a leveling effect on them.

"No need to waste time in recriminations," Trent shouted across to Gun. "The point is this—you're in a trap, and I suppose you know it. We outnumber you, and you can't possibly get off the island. You can hold out for the day, but tonight we shall switch on that searchlight, and then we've got you. Now, we don't want to waste any lives—you'd probably get one or two of us for sure before we get YOU—so, if you'll surrender now, we'll promise you your lives. Otherwise . . ."

He made a significantly explanatory gesture of cutting a throat.

Gun's reply came without hesitation:

"You're wasting your time, Trent. We shall not surrender. And if you do as you say, we've a card up our sleeves which I won't mention now. But you won't take us, and you'll lose your munitions. Anything more to say?"

Trent hesitated, then:

"Not if that's definite, Gunston."

"Absolutely definite, Trent."

"Well, it's a nice day—better make the most of it. I'll be your last."

"Thanks for the tip—and good morning."

Gun waved his hand airily, smiled gaily at the scowling Otto, and was just turning away when Otto broke out again:

"And tell that double-crossing little swine I won't kill her. But she'll wish I had."

Gun turned away, and his face as he walked back to the arsenal was the picture of grimness.

Today's Horoscope

Even, steady good fortune throughout the next year will attend those who have birthdays today. However, they will experience some minor loss or trouble through a speculative enterprise, they are promised. A complex nature is bestowed on a child who will be born today. He or she will be somewhat moody and difficult to understand. Sudden unexpected losses through legal matters are threatened such a child.

Christ Lutheran Society

A program of readings and music by Mrs. Lyle Davis, Mrs. Ralph Fisher, Miss Bertha Krimmel, Mrs. Harry Kern, Miss Jean List, Mrs. Van Meter Hulse and Mrs. G. L. Troutman marked the delightful meeting of the Christ Lutheran Ladies' Society Thursday at the home of Mrs. George Kern, Jackson Township.

The missionary topic, "An Open Door", was read by Mrs. Lawrence Krimmel. The Rev. George L. Troutman was in charge of the business and devotional hour and led the discussion of the topic.

A covered dish lunch was served to 21 members and guests, concluding the pleasant afternoon.

Mrs. John List of Muhlberg Township will entertain the group November 14.

Ashville Garden Club

Mrs. S. F. Hinkle discussed "Famous Trees of Ohio" and Mrs. Roger Hedges, "Famous Forests of Ohio" at the Thursday meeting of the Ashville Garden Club at the home of Mrs. A. W. Graham of that community. Miss Nelle Osterle was in charge of the program devoted to the subject, "Trees."

Mrs. Kermit Dountz, vice president, presided when several projects for the coming year were discussed. A committee including Mrs. C. J. Rockey, Mrs. George Stoker and Mrs. L. C. Schiff was named to secure and supervise the planting of red bud trees in the community park. Mrs. Curtis Cromley reported the Chillicothe meeting.

Mrs. Ralph Hosler sang two solos, "Trees" and "My Garden", of the group, the time was spent in choosing the elective officers and talking over plans for the work for the ensuing year. A brief talk on the study book was made by Mrs. N. E. Reichelderfer, general program chairman.

Mrs. John Maddux was chosen secretary; Miss Reba Lee, treasurer; Miss Anna Grimes, chairman of ticket sales, and Mrs. Leslie Pontius, program.

At the close of the meeting, Mrs. Barnhart served refreshments.

GLORIA Jane Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Wilson, 469 East Main Street, will represent Circleville High School in the "Miss Pumpkin Show" parade scheduled next Wednesday evening. Miss Wilson, a high school junior, was selected by her fellow students in competition that included all four of the upper classes, each class naming a candidate and the entire school choosing the winner.

After the program hour, the group visited Mrs. Graham's garden which now has many fall flowers in a riot of brilliant colors.

Beautiful arrangements of flowers from the gardens of members were taken to the meeting and used in the rooms of the home.

The next meeting will be Thursday November 14, at the home of Mrs. Isaac Miller, near Ashville. The session will begin at 7:30 p. m.

O. E. S.

Mrs. Olive Hurst, whose year as deputy grand matron of the Twenty-third District of the Order of the Eastern Star will soon close, was honored with a handkerchief shower Thursday following the regular meeting of Heber Chapter of Williamsport. Mrs. Thomas McKinley, worthy matron, was in charge of the ritualistic work and led the business meeting, with 25 members present.

Plans were discussed for the annual fried chicken supper which will be Wednesday, October 23. During the social hour refreshments were served by Mrs. George Bochar, Mrs. McKinley, Mrs. C. E. Hill and Mrs. Essie Ater.

Ebenezer Social Circle

Large bouquets of mixed fall flowers and bittersweet made a reasonable background for the meeting of the Ebenezer Social Circle Wednesday at the home of Miss Alda Bartley, Elmwood. Twenty-eight members and guests enjoyed the excellent program.

Mrs. Charles A. Dresbach, Mrs. Marvin Dreisbach, Mrs. William Hegele and Mrs. George Jury provided the music and Mrs. Dresbach, three readings during the afternoon.

Club Holds Its Annual Public Fete

Conforming to the program for the National Business Women's Week, October 6-12, the Circleville Business and Professional Women's Club held its annual Public Relations Dinner Thursday at the Wardell party home. Frank Fischer, superintendent of the Circleville schools, was the speaker, discussing briefly many interesting topics of the times.

He opened his talk by mentioning the slogans and study topics of the day and commented on the year slogan of the Business Women's Club, "The Business Woman in Democracy."

He discussed men and women in their relation to business and community life and told how the work of one complemented the other. Topics touched briefly by Mr. Fischer were, education; election, the vital issue of the year; the war; conscription and the work of relief. His points were keenly made and the group received his opinions with great enthusiasm.

Forty members and guests gathered for the dinner served at 7 p. m. at tables centered with bud vases of roses and bouquets of mixed flowers.

Mrs. Joe Work, club president, welcomed the members and guests and explained the purpose of the meeting. Miss Clara Southward read the club women's collect.

Mrs. Frank Morrison, vice president of the club, told of the origin of National Business Women's week in 1928 and spoke of the yearly slogans as following the trend of the times. She discussed the club in its relation with other organizations in the city.

A brief social hour after the program closed the meeting.

Child Conservation League

Dr. A. D. Blackburn will be guest speaker at the Tuesday session of the Child Conservation League at the home of Mrs. Bishop Given, South Court Street. Dr. Blackburn will discuss the subject, "Work Among Crippled Children."

Mrs. McGhee Entertains

Mixed garden flowers in a lovely arrangement centered the one table where members of Mrs. Harry McGhee's club were served Thursday at the Wardell party home. Mrs. McGhee's guests were Mrs. Sam Metzger, Mrs. John Dunlap, Jr., Mrs. Lee Luellen, Mrs. Fred Tipton, of Williamsport; Mrs. Russell McDill of Frankfort and Miss Laura McGhee of Lancaster, with Mrs. William Radcliff of Williamsport playing a substitute hand.

After the dinner was served, an evening at the card tables was enjoyed at the McGhee home in Williamsport.

Mrs. Dunlap will entertain the club October 25.

D. U. V.

The business meeting of the Daughters of Union Veterans will be at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday in the Relic room, Memorial Hall. The Sewing Club of the organization will gather for an hour of work Wednesday at 2 p. m. in the Post room.

40,000 To See Buckeyes Test Wildcat Strength

EVANSTON, Ill., Oct. 11—The Northwestern University Wildcats, impressive but untested in a 40 to 0 rout of Syracuse last week, will get the yardstick put on its "darkhorse" rating as the rugged Ohio State eleven, defending the Western Conference championship, comes to Dyche Stadium Saturday afternoon to open the Big Ten season for the Wildcats.

A crowd of more than 40,000 is expected to see the Buckeyes in their lone appearance this season in the Chicago area. The game will be the home debut of the Northwestern squad.

Both teams come up to this game unbeaten. The Syracuse game represents the Purple's sole effort this year, while Ohio State has defeated Pittsburgh, 30-7 and Purdue, 17-14.

The Wildcat's backfield, according to the rail birds, leaves little to be desired. The backs are big and rugged and the passing is called "tremendous."

In action will be Don Clawson, who seems headed for all-Big Ten honors; Bill De Corveant, the heralded sensation of 1939 who has benefitted from a year's experience; and veterans Paul Soper, Ike Kepford, Tuffy Chambers and Captain Dick Richards.

Indian Boss?

LATEST to be boomed for the job as manager of the Cleveland Indians is Mickey Cochrane, former leader of the pennant-winning Detroit Tigers.

There won't be a finer array of backs on any field in any game in the season as will grace Dyche Stadium Saturday. Aligned against the Wildcats' great outfit are Ohio's Don Scott, touted as the "back of the year," Capt. Jim Langhurst, Jimmy Strausbaugh, Tom Kinkade, Dick Fisher and two or three others.

The Ohio State backfield will be operating behind a line which outweighs the Wildcat forward wall some 15 pounds to a man—but Purdue was also outwitted by that same margin and you remember what happened.

Lynn Waldorf took over Northwestern football back in 1935, and Ohio State has been his biggest problem. The Buckeyes are always spotted early on the Wildcat schedule. Invariably a formidable squad, Ohio generally is at its best early in the campaign.

And conversely, Northwestern teams under Waldorf have developed slowly, reaching their peak in November.

This fact has reacted to the Wildcats' disadvantage in the last five years with the result that Ohio comes to Dyche Stadium with a heavy victory margin over Waldorf-coached Northwestern eleven.

The Buckeyes have beaten the Purple eleven three times while tying once and losing once.

The one victory the Wildcats have scored was important, because it contributed heavily to the winning of the 1936 conference title. But the three defeats all have given Wildcat championship hopes in other years a serious setback right at the race's outset, and it is a similar situation which confronts the Northwestern team Saturday as it moves against the power-packed Scarlet eleven from Columbus.

IRISH AND TECH TO PROVIDE BIG SATURDAY GAME

NOTRE DAME, Ind., Oct. 11—Notre Dame's Fighting Irish will play their 400th football game and their 11th against Georgia Tech before an expected crowd of 40,000 Saturday afternoon at Notre Dame Stadium.

One of the season's most colorful battles is in prospect, particularly if the Irish decide, as they did last year, to fight fire with fire. Trailing 7 to 3 early in the second quarter, they made two marches of 65 and 45 yards, respectively, in ten plays to go ahead, 17-7. Tech scored again and just missed a touchdown pass in the dying minutes.

While Tom Gallagher, left tackle, is the only Notre Dame regular of 1939, the Irish have eight starters back from last year's game, since Layden started his second team. Tech has lost six of its 11 starters but all of the 14 subs who saw action are back with the Jackets. In totals, the Rambling Wreck has 19 out of 25 men back, and Notre Dame has 20 out of 37.

Expressing open distaste for his team's 25 to 7 victory over little College of the Pacific last Saturday, Layden has promised his team it is in for a "real beating" if its play is not improved considerably. And the experts agree.

VICTORY IMPORTANT

The one victory the Wildcats have scored was important, because it contributed heavily to the winning of the 1936 conference title. But the three defeats all have given Wildcat championship hopes in other years a serious setback right at the race's outset, and it is a similar situation which confronts the Northwestern team Saturday as it moves against the power-packed Scarlet eleven from Columbus.

LARRY DENIES PLANNING TO BUY BOSTON BEES

NEW YORK, Oct. 11—Reports that he and Fay Murray, wealthy president of the Nashville Club, were attempting to make a deal for the Boston Bees brought a denial today from Manager Larry MacPhail of the Brooklyn Dodgers.

"The Brooklyn owners have given me 100 percent cooperation and I'm content to stay there," said Larry, pointing out his contract runs for three more years. Murray admitted in Nashville he and MacPhail had discussed the possibilities of a deal for the Bees.

WILBERFORCE FAVORED

CHICAGO, Oct. 11—The football teams of Wilberforce University and Tuskegee Institute clash in Soldier Field tonight in the annual gridiron meeting of the two famous Negro institutions. Tuskegee upset the Ohioans, 12-6, last year, but Wilberforce is favored in tonight's game by virtue of its 30-7 victory over Alabama A. and M. last week.

SLUGGER UNDER KNIFE

NEW YORK, Oct. 11—Henry Armstrong, the dusky slugger, was preparing today for an operation Sunday for the removal of superfluous scar tissue over both eyes, a condition many believe recently cost him the loss of his welterweight title to Fritz Zivic.

Pickaway To Stay In Fold Of F.D.R., Survey Shows

County And Licking Only Two In Central Ohio To Be Democratic

Only two central Ohio counties will remain in the field of President Roosevelt when the November election results are tabulated, and Pickaway County is one of those, according to a survey made of the district by the Plain Dealer, Cleveland, O., morning publication, which recently announced that it would support the candidacy of Republican nominee, Wendell Willkie.

The only other county to remain on the Roosevelt side will be Licking, of which Newark is the county seat, according to the survey. Licking County's margin for Roosevelt will be between 500 and 1,000 votes, the newspaper says, while Pickaway County's margin on the Democratic side was not disclosed.

"Pickaway," the Plain Dealer said, "has long been in the Democratic fold. It is the only one of 12 central Ohio counties that gave a majority to former United States Senator Robert J. Bulkley when he was defeated for reelection by Senator Robert A. Taft in 1938."

Rich Farm Area

The central Ohio area covered by the Plain Dealer survey includes some of the richest farming land in Ohio. Most of the farmers in the district, the newspaper writes, "are prosperous, are not in sympathy with federal relief policies and abhor deficits."

Four years ago the 12 counties gave President Roosevelt a majority of 44,386.

The Plain Dealer account continues:

"According to estimates made today, they will give Wendell L. Willkie, Republican presidential nominee, a majority of approximately 30,000."

"This is a turnover of nearly 75,000 votes in Willkie's favor, as compared with election results four years ago."

"The same counties are expected to give Gov. John W. Bricker a far bigger majority over former Gov. Martin L. Davey."

"The largest county in the group of 12 is Franklin, which gave the president a majority of 26,916 four years ago. According to today's estimates, Franklin County will give Willkie a 2,500 majority this year."

"Delaware County, which maintained its traditional Republicanism by giving Alfred M. Landon a majority of 319 in 1936, is expected to give Willkie a majority of 5,000 this year."

"Morrow County, which stayed Republican by 139 votes four years ago, is expected to go Republican this year by 2,800 to 3,500."

"Union County, the only other one in the group which went Republican for president four years ago, gave Landon a majority of 516 in 1936 and is expected to go for Willkie by a majority of 2,000 to 2,500 this year."

"Of the other counties in the group, Knox is expected to give Willkie a majority of 4,500, Muskingum 2,000, Perry 3,500, Fairfield 1,000, Madison 1,200, Union 2,000 and Marion 4,500."

DRAFT MACHINE BEGINS TO MOVE

Presiding Judges Meet Monday Evening To Discuss Task

Pickaway County's draft machine began to roll Friday as local election officers made preparations for registering the county's men of eligible draft age.

Claude Kraft, clerk of the board of elections, announced that he had received definite instructions on registration procedure, and that he was calling a meeting of all precinct judges Monday evening at 7:30 in the Common Pleas court room. During the meeting registration procedure will be discussed and supplies given out.

Members of the Pickaway County Bar Association, at their meeting at the Country Club Thursday evening, voted unanimously to assist the registrant's advisory committee in helping draftees fill out application forms.

STRIKE IN AUTO FRAME AND AXLE FACTORY AT END

CLEVELAND, Oct. 11—Production of automobile frames and axle housings was resumed at the Midland Steel Products Co., Cleveland, today, as members of the CIO United Automobile Workers returned to work, ending a strike that started Tuesday.

Union members last night ratified an agreement reached by company and union negotiators conferring with Federal Conciliators James F. Dewey and David T. Roadley. The agreement called for a blanket wage increase, ranging from three to 10 cents per hour, and paid vacations of 45 rather than 40 hours. A provision also was made for 10-minute rest periods both morning and afternoon for assembly line workers.

The conciliators announced that the controversial issue of reinstatement of Mack Cheek, president of the Midland UAW Local, had been settled, but refused to reveal terms of the settlement.

Cheek was discharged three years ago, and although the National Labor Relations board ordered him re-hired, the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals upset the order and he remained unemployed.

The strike slowed production in several Detroit and South Bend automobile factories using Midland products.

TRUCK HAULING PUMPKINS HAS ROLE IN MISHAP

The truck of Sam Winfough, 129 West Ohio Street, loaded with pumpkins, overturned in Route 23 at the north edge of the city Thursday at 6:20 p. m. in an accident which brought only a finger cut to one of the persons involved.

D. H. Dreisbach, Kingston, traveling south, received finger cuts when a pumpkin from the truck, which was driven by William Robert Cook, 439 East Mound Street, crashed through the windshield of his car.

Deputy Sheriff Earl Weaver said the truck, going north, attempted to pass an automobile and met Dreisbach car coming south. The Winfough truck was damaged.

EX-PRESIDENT'S SPEECH IN COLUMBUS OCTOBER 24

COLUMBUS, Oct. 11—Former President Herbert Hoover will speak in Columbus, October 24, according to John D. M. Hamilton, executive director of the Republican National Committee. Hamilton made the announcement in Chicago. The former president was to have spoken in Columbus last Wednesday but the speech was postponed by Hoover.

FATHER OF TULANE'S GRID CAPTAIN KILLED

CLOUDERSPORT, Pa., Oct. 11—Mrs. Thomas O'Boyle, of Gary, Ind., mother of Thomas Joseph O'Boyle, co-captain of Tulane University's football team, and a son, James, 18, were reported improving today in Cloudersport Hospital after an automobile accident which snuffed out the lives of her husband, Thomas, 53, and a sister, Mrs. Mary Strickland, 46.

Mrs. O'Boyle, hospital attaches said, sustained a possible fracture of the skull and lacerations. Her condition is serious, but she spent a restful night. Her son, James, suffered a broken right arm and lacerations.

The O'Boyles and Mrs. Strickland, of Woodward, Okla., were en route to New York to witness tomorrow's game between Tulane and Fordham. Their car collided with a truck near here late yesterday, hospital attaches said.

DURANTE 'NOT FUNNY' AT HOME, WIFE CLAIMS

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 11—Jimmy Durante, the funny man of the stage and screen is not funny at home, according to his wife, Jeanne Durante, who had a separate maintenance suit on file today against "Schnozzola."

Mrs. Durante, charging cruelty, asked the courts for $300 a week and alleged that during the last two years Durante often "swore at her," and "struck and kicked her on occasions too numerous to mention." The Durantes have been married since 1921.
